

Hypothia.—The Montreal and Quebec papers have from time to time mentioned the existence of a sure remedy for this dreadful scourge, as held in the possession of one Henry Hughes, a soldier of the 1st regiment, stationed at Montreal; and his willingness to disclose the recipe, for a consideration. We do not recommend, however, seeing any record of a case in which the remedy had been successfully applied, and the alleged fact of its existence does not seem to have attracted much attention.

The Montreal Transcript of Tuesday gives the following account of its application, which we think worthy of general notice. If Hughes can master the disease, it is the duty of government to obtain his secret and make it known for the general benefit of the human race. No citizen of this republic would object to any expenditure for such an object. The Transcript does not give the name of the physician in whose presence the remedy was administered, but the writer of the account professes to have read his certificate.

Yesterday morning early, application was made a Canadian and his wife, named Nancello, to the commanding officer of the regiment, for the advice of Hughes in the case of their son, who was bitten about five weeks since, and was laboring under all the horrors of infection.—Hughes was immediately despatched, and on his way called on a physician, who promised to follow and observe the state of the patient, and the effects of the medicine. The child was suffering under extreme soreness and swelling of the throat, fuming at the mouth, the fear of water, and all the usual symptoms of confirmed hydrocephalus.

At half past 8 o'clock in the morning Hughes administered his medicine. In one hour's time, during which the patient had undergone violent perspiration and slight vomiting, he was so far relieved as to ask for drink and swallowed some milk and water. At noon, Hughes returned to visit his patient, and found the swelling much abated. The boy expressed a desire to rise from bed, and as soon as the perspiration had ceased, Hughes consoled. At 3 o'clock he called again and found him still doing well.

A New One.—One day last week, while a cloud was over me in the evening, I sat on a stool on my desk, and looking out of the window, saw that the Albany Argus in the rest of the city was now in the hands of the whigs, and that they had a complete victory over democratic office-holders, and put their own persons in their places. —The Globe.

It may seem to some of our friends that we are little excited by the presentation of our political action—but we do not employ enough of the language of enthusiasm and passion to arouse to the importance of the people and awaken them to the importance of the cause now won by the few against the many. We choose to address ourselves to the judgment rather than the passions or prejudices of men. These temporary excitements may serve the purpose of the passing hour, but they will not wear well. Then when we address ourselves are not easily excited by declamation and rhetorical flourishes, and excited their principles are not changed nor their sentiments altered thereby. They are not a field multitude swayed to and fro by every popular breeze—an oxen-headed cannot be got up and propagated by contact as in a crowded city. Here, each reads, reflects, and decides for himself. Well turned periods and smooth declamation may answer for some, will not convince any. They are ready to detect sophistry and care little for round assertions. It becomes us therefore to address them in the language of address and truth. The times and the events going on around and among us, have enough in them to excite the passions and attract the attention. The causes and consequences of these things are carefully studied. We rely upon the good sense of our readers and this reliance has never failed us. We all know that the last year has been one of unusual anxiety, and the suspension of specific payments by the banks has made it difficult to procure even paper money to meet existing liabilities and engagements. But when the whigs undertake to explain the causes and point out the remedies for these evils, charging the former all to the administration and proposing for the latter the overthrow of democracy, they receive but scorn, contempt, and ridicule—scorn and contempt for their baseness and ridicule for their folly. Wealth carries with it power and influence. We envy not its advantages when properly exercised, but when it creates distress for the purpose of profitting by it—when it oppresses the people for the purpose of handing them to its own will—when it dictates its own terms and strictures with ruin all who will not comply with them—when it tramples the law under foot and with the people at its command, it is then that it becomes a curse to us all.

Consumption !

DR. RALFE'S ASTHMATIC PILLS

MADE, from their extraordinary success in giving instant relief, and in curing Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Difficulties of Breathing, Wheezing, Tightness of the Chest, Pain the Side, Spitting of Blood, Chillness and all Complaints of the Liver and Lungs Complaints, and become one of the most popular medicines, and are sought after from every part of the country, on account of the astonishing success which has attended the administration in the above complaints, frequently giving the most unexpected relief, after every other remedy had failed, and persons had given themselves up in despair of a cure.

They have been known to cure persons supposed to be far gone in consumption, and exhibiting all the appearance of approaching death, and have been the salutary effects of these Pills, even in hopeless cases, so far as to mitigate the sufferings of the patient, as evidently to prolong life for days and weeks, and give them a positive comfort they never expected to enjoy.

The operation of the pills is wonderful in easing respiration, quieting the cough, and procuring comfort.

Common colds are frequently relieved in a few hours.

* * * * * All who, say a person speaking of these pills, for an asthmatic difficulty, or affection of the lungs, which at times are exceedingly distressing, confirming her to her house for days and weeks together, she finds that nothing gives her relief which J. Ralfe's Asthmatic Pills do—easing her respiration, quieting her cough, and giving her comfortable rest.

The testimony of hundreds of thousands of people, the relief which these Pills afford them is invaluable to many, and are fit to serve as an essential auxiliary to their comfort, and almost to their existence!

A Physician informs the Proprietor, that a gentleman in the country observed to him, he had reason to believe the use of these Pills had been the means of saving his life.

Price, whole boxes, 30 Pills, $1; half doz. 12 Pills, 50cts.

DUMFRIES' EYE-WATER !

FOR sore or inflamed Eyes—nothing known gives such instant and comfortable relief. Our recent sore eyes, the effect is most salutary. Where the complaint has been of long standing, the most unexpected and decided relief has been found in the use of this Eye-Water, after every other remedy has failed.

Persons who have used it pronounce it without hesitation the best preparation for these complaints they have ever met with. Price 25 cents a bottle.
